What is CAHPS®?

The Consumer Assessment of Healthcare Providers and Systems (CAHPS) is an annual survey used to rate a patient's health care experiences. The CAHPS survey asks patients to report on their experiences with health care services in different settings. The survey is a product of the Agency for Healthcare Research and Quality's CAHPS program. CMS (Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services) administers the surveys for Medicare Advantage health plans, while the New York State Department of Health administers the surveys for Medicaid and Commercial health plans. Both surveys are mailed to a select number of randomly chosen patients from February through May of each year.

Why CAHPS® is Important

The CAHPS surveys focus on healthcare quality and aspects of the healthcare experience that patients may find important. Collecting data around the patient experience is the first step toward obtaining actionable insights and driving improvement. The surveys allow meaningful and objective comparisons between health plans and providers on domains that are important to patients. As one such domain, we understand that making informed decisions has become increasingly important for both patients and providers. This survey provides the performance indicator by which all parties can compare their experiences.

Examples of Topics Covered by the Surveys Include:

- Communication with healthcare professionals
- Access to care and information
- Customer service
- Coordination of care
